KITCHENS

A modern kitchen interior featuring a central island with a dark wood-grain base and a light-colored countertop. The island has a built-in sink and a faucet. To the left of the island, there are two high-top bar stools with orange seats and metal frames. The background wall is composed of light-colored, flat-panel cabinets. A central section of the wall features open shelving with three shelves, displaying various kitchen items like bottles and bowls. To the right, there are more cabinets, including a tall, narrow unit with open shelving. The floor is a dark, solid color. The overall lighting is soft and even.

OUTDOOR KITCHENS

FLEXIBLE COOKING ELEMENT

"AH01 allows to cook different types of food without mixing flavours on a professional steel plate, all this without use of condiments. It does not produce smoke and its cooking area can be quickly and easily cleaned"

FURNITURE

"For a house to be successful the objects in it must communicate with one another, respond and balance on another."

-ANDRÉE PUTMAN

The comfort and harmony of the shapes and the expressive design codes of the collection take centre stage in the Newent line.

A succession of sensual curves runs along the three metres of its frame with the sideboard elegantly positioned to give it balanced proportion.

We seek to integrate the best of our culture to international references through the rational use of wood as a raw material, a method and production control which are in agreement with all the ecological requirements, and the investment in the use cutting edge technological equipment along with artisanal techniques.

WARDROBES

and celebration of who are you now - not who you were."*

PALO ALTO FREE
GIANNI BORGONOVO

The evolution of Palo Alto I-Box, Palo Alto Free is the new wardrobe concept that calls for the use of doors directly supported by floor-to-ceiling posts that form the structure. This simple system for closing niches or separating spaces sustains a series of accessories for the compartments, similar to those of the Palo Alto I-box.

DOORS & WINDOWS

*"In the universe, there are things that are known,
and things that are unknown, and in between,
there are DOORS"*

-WILLIAM BLAKE

ADL

ADL doors want to distinguish themselves by transforming themselves into openings that do not divide spaces, but which divide them and unite them at the same time, creating what Ludwig Mies van der Rohe has defined as "flowing spaces".

LIGHTS

Nothing can alter the perception of a room like good or poor light to make it welcoming or, conversely, unattractive.
